Looking for a change? #makeitinMarshall

If you are looking for a new home, a place to start a family, a place to start a business, a place to make your product or provide your service, a place to get educated and trained for the careers of today and those coming in the future, or just a place to have a little fun, well then, you should #makeitinMarshall.

The Davis Family & Law Firm - They #makeitinMarshall

Jason and Louisa Davis are the parents of four beautiful children, run their own law office located in an historic building in downtown Lewisburg, have built a gorgeous home on a hill just outside of town and are community leaders including chairing the Young Professionals of Marshall County. They could have gone anywhere in the nation to make their family, their business and their lives; but they #makeitinMarshall.

Working with Walker Die Casting - They #makeitinMarshall

In 1958, Bobby Walker started a small metalworking shop in a building on the Lewisburg square with 6 employees. Today, Walker Die Casting has over 1 million square feet under roof and more than 800 employees making die castings for just about every sector of industry. In 2019, the Walker family sold their successful business to Allison Transmission who have continued to #makeitinMarshall.

Brewing & Baking at Brandon's Bro'Rista - They #makeitinMarshall

Brandon Bradley had a dream while battling cancer. The teenager wanted to open a coffeehouse in Lewisburg - "I will be your Bro'Rista," he said. Today, his parents own and operate BB's coffeehouse, bakery and bistro in his memory. They started this small business from scratch with nothing more than Brandon's vision to go on. Today, it is a must-stop for many coming to and from work, remote working or for those needing a quick bite, delicious treat or a quick pick-me-up for a day of fun or relaxation. They #makeitinMarshall.

Training Our Students for the Future - They #makeitinMarshall

The Spot Lowe Technology Center provides various high-tech and career-oriented training for students starting in middle school and through high school. Engineering, Robotics, 3D Printing, CNC, PLC, Welding and more are offered at the facility where each year over 400 students learn valuable skills and work ethic within the facility. Whether its a CAD drawing for a library building, a tiny model home or a program to operate a robotic arm, They #makeitMarshall.

Enjoying the Great Outdoors - They #makeitinMarshall

Each year, more than 900,000 people visit Henry Horton State Park alone for canoeing, hiking, golfing, swimming, camping and more. The park is just one of 15 parks and recreation facilities and areas in Marshall County providing outdoor fun, events & activities, classes and programs to make sure anyone who lives in or visits has something fun, healthy and educational to do. Whether biking, running, paddling or hiking, every day They #makeitinMarshall.

Creating Works of Art - They #makeitinMarshall

The Marshall County Art Guild in downtown Lewisburg provides local and regional artists with a home base to showcase their works of art, work on their art or teach others about and how-to make art. There are always classes for kids and adults to paint or sculpt or take photos and more. Along with the Marshall Co. Community Theatre, also located on the Lewisburg square, these two organizations provide just some of the arts and culture activities you can find in Marshall County. From works of art to performances on the stage, They #makeitinMarshall.
